Note for grown-ups

What this teaches

The child counts objects to 10 and matches the count to a numeral, hears the first sound of simple Christmas words, and traces a few short words.

What comes next

They use counting in everyday play (count decorations on a real tree or windowsill), and beginning sounds in letter work.

What you need

A pencil and crayons. Scissors are not needed for this pack.

Count the stars

Count the stars. Circle the number, or write it in the box.
